If you want a long sided ram, that still has balance. Home Grown would be a logical choice. Carries Bauck 7-11 on both sides of pedigree. We plan on using him for fall lambs. Twin sister was high selling late fall ewe at last years Nat'l.

Everybody loves a Black Jack! And so have all the farm visitors this spring. If you are searching for a short pasterned, level hiped, high docked ram think Black Jack. Osborne was one of Isaiah's past futurity ewes, where the judge described her as the most correct ewe. Now you be the judge on Black Jack.

Every once in a while a stud ewe shows up at the Nat'l. I believe Bauck 4-62 has a chance to enter that category. Her mother 8-40 is a maternal sister to "Brewer" a past Nat'l Champion ram. Canyon is leaving his mark on the breed, furthermore she knows what the winners circle is about as she was 1st fall ewe at the prestigious North American.

Here is an outstanding ewe from the heart of the NDSU program. This stout made daughter of our Eagleson ram is a powerfully constructed female that has a productive brood ewe look about her. She's wide based, yet beautiful fronted, balanced from the side and not to mention, has outstanding Columbia breed type. Just because she is in the production ewe category, don't overlook the quality and genetic predictability this ewe offers. Full performance data and in-flock ratios will be available sale day.

We will bring a daughter of NDSU 09-207. NDSU 09-207 has been the cornerstone of our breeding program and has been used in rotation with ESC 002 RR, an Eagleson ram. We've crossed these rams on each other's daughters with results of some outstanding breeding pieces within our flock.
